

THE ST MARK'S HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Activities:

The SMHS is intended to inform future generations of the exceptional role our church played in shaping modern Australian society. We intend to conduct many and varied activities, including:

- Hosting public events featuring our own historians and guest lecturers talking on subjects of historical importance.
- Establishing St Mark's as a significant Historical Site along the lines of Sydney Living Museums, where the church will be regularly open to visitors for a briefing on St Mark's and early Sydney Life. These talks will be focused on social, economic and political developments directly influenced by parishioners of St Mark's and will be held periodically.
- Aligning with Woollahra Library to permanently record personal historical records, photos, items of significance, etc., relating to the parish and the municipality.
- Establishing St Mark's as a key part of a community of local historians recognising, accurately recording, and celebrating the role of evangelical Christianity in the development of modern Australia.
- Establishing a valuable reference library and resource centre.
