Rev Dr Rowan Kemp

Rowan grew up in a Christian home, for which he is eternally thankful to God. One of the ways he serves the Lord Jesus is as an Anglican Chaplain at Sydney University where he has the privilege of sharing the gospel of Christ and teaching from God's word. Rowan also leads the ministry staff team working alongside the Evangelical Union - a Christian, interdenominational student group on campus - and runs The EU Graduates Fund, a Christian charity that funds ministry staff to serve the EU at Sydney Uni. Rowan and his wife, Jenny, attend St James Anglican Church in Croydon and have five adult children.
